

Getfeedback Partner Solutions

Helping you to build your business

Tools and services to services to support and grow your business

Getfeedback supports HR and Management Consultancies with our range of people measurement tools and services to support your client projects and grow your business.

Through Getfeedback you can expand your offering to include a wide range of psychometric assessments, both off the shelf and bespoke 360 degree feedback surveys, and surveys for organisations such as engagement, customer, and training evaluation surveys. All with the option to be branded with your or your clients logo.

Our online platform provides you with direct access to these products 24 hours a day and our experienced technical and consulting teams are available and happy to provide support, advice and guidance on using or creating the tools that will best match your needs.

Getfeedback partners are also given access to our secure partner area where they can access guides, manuals, and advice on the tools and services we offer.

Alternately we can provide you with your very own assessment platform and help you to develop your own psychometrics tools and surveys.

Getfeedback are dedicated to providing our partners with the tools and support needed to help them deliver impactful client projects and build their reputation and grow their business.

Increase your opportunities through....

...Psychometric assessment...

...360 degree feedback...

...Organisational feedback surveys...

...Fully bespoke assessment system.

The widest range of tests from the largest number of suppliers on the market

With Getfeedback you gain direct access to tests from some of the biggest names in psychometrics all in one place.

Our simple to use testing platform, developed and refined for over 12 years, allows BPS qualified administrators to set up tests and generate reports at the click of a mouse from a single supplier 24 hours a day.

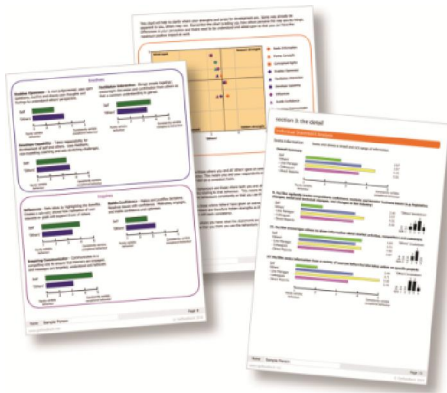

As experts we can provide help and advice on tools and many selection issues. We are happy to provide you with as much or as little support as required to deliver your projects.

Benefits of Getfeedback assessment system:

- Direct 24 hour access to tests from a range of suppliers in once place
- No annual licence fees or hidden costs – Simply pay as you go
- Competitive rates
- The options to send multiple tests from multiple suppliers via a single link – improving candidate experience
- The option to brand assessments, reports and create branded test centres
- Advice and support from our friendly team to help you find the right test to suit your clients needs
- Access to our partner portal containing test manuals, sample reports, and advice and guidance on the assessments we offer

Leading edge off the shelf and bespoke 360 feedback surveys

Our 360 degree feedback surveys have been designed with flexibility in mind. We offer a range of off the shelf 360 surveys that can be easily branded with your own logo and offered as part of your service to your clients. Alternately we can host or help you to develop a survey that is bespoke to your own or your clients competency model for direct administration from our simple online platform.

We switched to using Getfeedback for 360 as having worked with them previously I already had high trust in the service they can provide in terms of the robustness and reliability of the technology, quality of the product, the fact that they're constantly developing and improving it, and the responsiveness of the service. I know if I have a question or a problem I'll get a quick answer and a 'can do' approach.

The system is intuitive to use and the pricing structure allows me to include a Lift--branded 360 service without it costing an arm and a leg - like Getfeedback says, you only pay for what you use.

Katrina Wray
Lift Consultancy

Our standard individual reports have been designed around a development workbook, based on best practice to really drive behavioural change. The reporting output is a great place to start when looking at what tool would best fit with what you are trying to do. The development structure of our standard report as well as data displays such as the Johari window and spider display of competencies are really useful to frame development conversations.

The customisation available to our tool ranges from a fully bespoke, questionnaire, processing and report to just updating logos and colours on one of our standard questionnaires.

Benefits of our 360 feedback services:

- Direct access 24hours a day to a range of ready to go 360 feedback surveys designed for a range of levels, roles, and industries
- Survey and report branding to provide a fully integrated client experience
- Option to host bespoke surveys based on your own or client competencies
- Bespoke individual and group reports tailored to your needs
- Large database allows for benchmarking
- Partner rates below our listed prices with discounts for high volume users

Secure and reliable organisational and customer feedback surveys

Getfeedback's survey and assessment system can be used to host and distribute organisational feedback surveys .

Surveys which can be delivered via our platform include:

- Employee engagement
- Customer satisfaction
- Training needs analysis
- Event and training feedback
- Bespoke surveys

Our user friendly and secure survey system means that it's as easy to send out a company wide engagement survey to 50,000 people as it is to deliver an event feedback survey to 10 people. Our system makes it easy to collect and store information anonymously ensuring you can provide a service your clients and their employees can trust.

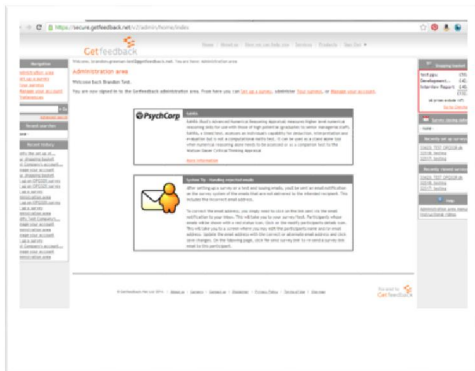

Our user friendly reporting system also makes it easy for you to cut analyse the data and break it down by demographically to give your clients insightful information at the right levels

Benefits of our organisational feedback surveys:

- Secure and reliable technology
- Flexible survey platform can host a variety of feedback forms and question types
- Secure server ensures respondent data protected and meets confidentiality requirements
- Scalable technology allows for large scale surveys to be delivered as easily as smaller intimate surveys
- System compatible and able to support multiple languages
- Simple report system allows you to manage and analyse data effectively
- Support available from our expert consultants to help you design surveys or analyse the results

Bespoke tailored assessment platform for hosting your own tests and surveys

Getfeedback's assessment and survey technology is used by some of the worlds largest test publishers and consultancies to host and deliver their online psychometrics and surveys. Our system is proven to be secure, reliable , and capable of handling high loads of activity and is recognised by our clients as one of the most user friendly systems on the market.

"Thanks for all the expertise, patience and flexibility from the team at Getfeedback on the customization work for this project. I have to say that you guys are probably the most effective IT service providers I've worked with."

Loh Yu Xing
Talent Assessment Consultant
Pearson Singapore

Supported by our highly skilled technology team, we understand the intricate of developing hosting online assessments including:

- Accurate scoring and norming of psychometric assessments
- Item response theory
- Confidential candidate data storage
- Norm group development
- Integration with third parties such as Applicant Tracking Systems

We can provide the technical expertise to develop, host ,and deliver your assessments and surveys to your client base.

Benefits of our assessment and survey platform

- Developed and supported by experts experienced in developing hosting online psychometrics and assessments
- Trusted reliable technology used by global test publishers and consultancies
- User friendly interface for simple assessment administration
- Easily intergratable with existing systems

Partner levels

We accept that every organisation is different and the needs will change from project to project and we are happy to support partners in the best way to suit them.

Regardless of your level of use, Getfeedback will provide you with great service and support every step of the way and all partners have access to our partner resources area where you can access additional information such as assessment manuals, norm data, user guides, tutorials, and sample reports as well as other useful information to help you.

We have a range of options to get you set up depending on your likely level of usage and requirements. Once your account is set up there are no ongoing license fees or annual costs, you simply pay for what you use on a monthly basis. Details of our set up options can be found below:

Set up option	Usage description	Set up cost*
Option 1	For users requiring access to tests and surveys on an ad hoc basis with little or no requirement for survey or report branding and no bespoke surveys or tests.	£250 for account set up and training. Includes £250 of system credit
Option 2	For users looking to use test and assessments regularly requiring some branding.	£500 set up fee includes system training, £250 system credit and 3 branded surveys or assessments
Option 3	Regular user using a range of assessments and surveys on monthly basis. Partner has a range of branded or bespoke products available on the system in regular use.	£1000 set up fee includes upload of one free bespoke 360, or 3 branded online test centres including branded assessments and reports where possible, and £500 system credit
Technology partner	Has their own bespoke test and survey platform hosting their own assessments and surveys.	POA

*Terms and conditions apply

System credit is valid for 12 months from date of account setup

One system...

...hundreds of recognised psychometrics...

...360 feedback surveys for all levels...

..bespoke and branded options...

..competitively priced...

...support from experienced advisors...

...with 24 hour access.

Become a Getfeedback partner today

Want to gain access to our range of tools and services to support your business?
Contact one of our partner specialists today to talk about how we can support your business.

Call us on 01491 845 536

Or

Email us at partners@getfeedback.net